DOJ,

Please count my opinion as being in support of Matthew Szulik, CEO of Red Hat. I have looked over the PFJ and feel it is seriously lacking in action against one of the richest, sleaziest corporations in the world.

I would very much like to see the further actions that Mathew has proposed be taken into consideration and integrated into the Final Judgement. I believe that Microsoft should fund the advancement of alternative software and other operating systems (Macintosh and Linux) for a period of time to convey the message that you cannot use illegal methods to hold down your competition and suffocate free speech and free code.

Sincerely,

A concerned computer user.
